

Bee Aware of Your Native Bees

A Community Based Project

Australian Native Bee Symposium

The University of Western Sydney and Bees Business invites you to attend the Australian Native Bee Symposium, as part of the Bee Aware of Your Native Bees project, funded by the NSW Environmental Trust.

Held on the 18th February 2015 at the University of Western Sydney Hawkesbury Campus, the symposium will host several keynote speakers and live demonstrations whose specialties and passions are in the biology and behaviour of Australian native bees.

The symposium will feature keynotes from the Australian Museum, University of Sydney, University of Western Sydney, Bees Business and ANBRC.

The Bee Aware of Your Native Bees project has introduced community groups in Greater Western Sydney and Lithgow to native bees and citizen science.

This event is free of charge!

When: Wednesday 18th February 2015

Time: Arrival at 8.45am for a 9.00am start. Conclusion at 4.00pm.

Where: Building G1, UWS Hawkesbury Campus (see map below). The campus is located on the corner of Bourke Street and Londonderry Road Richmond, main entrance is via Bourke Street.

RSVP: Wednesday 4th February 2015 to sustainability@uws.edu.au.

Lunch and afternoon tea will be provided. Please alert us to any dietary requirements you may have when you RSVP.

This event is free of charge.

Spots are limited to the first 100 people.

REGIONAL CENTRE OF EXPERTISE
ON EDUCATION FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

ACKNOWLEDGED BY

UNITED NATIONS
UNIVERSITY

